Living Through The Eyes Of Papa Smurf Part 1

👁 15 ✓ 0 ★ 2

Chapter 1 by Jax Onyx

I could say once upon a time or a long time ago but you see this ain't that kind of story. This story is about a series of lives that don't make entire sense. So you'll have to use your imagination on how much is true and how much is an exact lie. It's a series of truths and lies through the eyes of Papa Smurf. It's the order and the chaos that make sense in the history of a two way mirror of the darkness of one's mind. I have the ability to decide the best way to get my message across, but the passage of life was about following the life we wanted to live, rather than the curriculum of control in this fucked up system. I have heard that i'm a bit dopey and stoned and that is true but i'm not clumsy.

It's just the floor hates me and the tables and chairs are bullies and the wall gets in my way. Life is short so smile while you still have teeth. They say that yo find love in every corner, so my life must be a continues circle. I must ask "Why do women averagely live longer than men?" and my answer is this "Shopping never causes heart attacks, but paying the bills does." You see my life may not be going the way i planned it. But it is going the exact way everyone else that pull the strings to go through each demented path and the next two explanations of life will explain this.

One foot, two feet, even three and four feet will run and push my back every day. I never get a bloody rest. My favorite time of the day is when the sun is shining around but the silence and peace of the city standing still. Wind is blowing through my bushy like leaves for hair and the cold fresh brisk air that smells like tobacco. I have a garden with a lot of plants. At least tobacco is free around my front yard. If you be nice to me, I'll be nice to you and who ever respects that is family for me. they live the life they want to live.
